Sovello is showing himself Guiteau's brother "in-law," indeed.

Grand Lodge, of Illinois, was about to suspend the leading offender, but an apology on his part saved him.

Baron Steuben, whose descendants are now receiving such honors at Yorktown on account of the old gentleman, in his will excluded all his European relations for what he termed "sufficient reasons." The French visitors who have felt a little jealous at the attentions shown the Steubens, will find a tid-bit of satisfaction in this fact that the honor of the line did not think enough of them to will them a shilling. It will be a sweet morsel to roll under the French tongue.

Five hundred girls employed in Lorillard's tobacco factory in Jersey City, have struck. They find no fault with the wages, with the hours of work, in fact they have but one cause of complaint, and that is a novel one. The firm put in a new foreman, who was not so tender-hearted as the old one, and would not let the girls have any fun. The horrible old creature would not let them laugh, sing, or whistle while at work. The strike of the girls has also thrown out of employment two hundred men, who grumble greatly. They ought to console themselves with the fact that men on a strike have often taken work out of the hands of girls, and should be gallant enough to concede that the girls must have their fun. It is fortunate for that horrid foreman that the telegraphic reports omit his name, for the women of the land would never forget or forgive him.

There is occasionally found a man who claims that one ticket is about as good as another, and that it does not matter much which is elected. It does matter much, though. Other things being equal even a local officer will the more faithfully perform his duties and execute his trust, when under the pressure of a party such as the Republican, insisting on its representatives being men of honor as well as of ability, and whose position in the party depends upon these. The record of the Democratic party is one purely of grasping for power, with little regard to how that power is gained, and the servant of this party, however good in and of himself, cannot but be weakened by the standing rule of the party, that he is best, who shows the most skill in grasping, without regard to how he grasps. The man who thinks that two candidates stand about on a par, should look to the pressure which is being brought to bear on each.

A DEMOCRAT ON RUSK.
O. C. Smith, Esq., a prominent lawyer of Dodgeville, and a leading Democrat, has published an open letter favoring the election of General Rusk for Governor. The closing portion of his letter is especially worthy of perusal as it sets forth the worthy qualities of the Republican nominees, which have caused Mr. Smith to give him his support:

I know Hon. J. M. Rusk, and know him well. I have known him in Wisconsin since 1853, when the elements of which the Republican party is composed were floating about in a chaotic mass of abolitionism and whiggery. He has been a Republican ever since the party has had an existence. I stood by his side at the fount of his baptism in Vernon county in 1856. I lived in the same village with him about fifteen years and know him as a friend that never fails. Have voted for him for Sheriff, for member of Assembly in 1860, for bank controller of the State for the war, after which he was sent to Congress from his district three successive terms, and can say that I have never met a man in the State that possessed a higher regard for the opinions of others than he did. He always possessed the kindest feelings for all, and cultivated the most perfect tolerance for the views and sentiments of others on all subjects, political, temperance, religious, and every leading principle of human action. Such qualities possessed by him, have been the means by which he gained, in the congressional district in which he has lived ever since he came to the State in 1853, such unbounded popularity.

The rumored combination against Wisdom for Senator from Minnesota, seems to have fallen to pieces. He was last evening made the unanimous choice of the Republican caucus, and will be elected on Tuesday next.

The unwholesomeness of the White House is officially declared to be the drainage, rather than the malaria, arising from the adjoining low lands. It was to be expected that the plumbers would work up a profitable winter's job there.

English mill-owners are complaining that there is too much sand in the bales of American cotton. Their forefathers at Yorktown disliked to acknowledge that America had "too much sand" for them, but they had to, and now the Americans dislike to plead guilty to sand, but they may have to, in turn.

Harburt, the American minister to Peru, is said to have been holding his credentials in his hand for three months waiting for some form of government to stay organized there long enough to receive the papers. He ought to have his credentials in manifold, and send over a copy to governmental headquarters daily.

Hon. E. W. Keyes was yesterday afternoon nominated for the Assembly by the Republicans of the Second Assembly district, gathered in convention at Blountton. His election is a foregone conclusion, and it is equally certain that no district will be more ably and faithfully represented than that in which the Capitol is located.

The Chicago postoffice employe, Andrews, who pleaded guilty to stealing nearly three hundred letters, was sentenced to only one year in the penitentiary, and judgment suspended until he could apply for a pardon, which has been granted. The authorities must have been satisfied that Andrews was mistaken when he said he stole those letters.

The Wisconsin Knights of Pythias evidently set up a higher moral standard than their Illinois brethren. One Sunday last summer some of the Chicago Knights indulged in an excursion to Milwaukee. In consequence Chancellor Day, of this State, entered complaint, and the inuation on the first ballot, Windom having a majority. General John Sashorn, of St. Paul, one of the leaders of the opposition, moved his nomination by acclamation, which was carried. It is thought Mr. Windom will receive all the Republican votes in the Legislature.

LOST AND FOUND.

The Big Balloon Landed in an Uninhabited Region.

CHIPPWA FALLS, Wis., Oct. 21.—The missing balloon is at last heard from. It landed Friday night sixty-five miles north of this point. Prof. King and his companion Hershagen, wandered about for two days before they saw a living soul, and finally worked their way to this point, arriving here last night safe and sound. The roads are in an almost impassable condition on account of the heavy rains, and their progress toward civilization was very slow and tedious.

AT THE CAPITOL.

Special to the Gazette.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—President Arthur arrived from Yorktown at 9:30 o'clock this morning, and a batch of nominations were sent into the Senate. Senator Sherman's resolution calling upon the Secretary of the Treasury for the Pitney report was adopted.

GUITEAU'S CASE.

Special to the Gazette.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Judge Cox has decided to appoint counsel to assist Seville in the defense of Guiteau, and also to summon witnesses in his behalf.

YORKTOWN.

The Celebration at Yorktown Reached Its Climax and Finale in the Military Review.

YORKTOWN, Va., Oct. 20.—The steamer Charleston, with the Governor of Connecticut and staff and troops on board, arrived this morning. The pilot of the steamer did not know Yorktown harbor, and anchored his boat at the mouth of York river until he could get a pilot to bring her into port.

PARIS, Oct. 20.—The Republique Francaise, commenting on the Yorktown centenary, says: "Frenchmen are doubly bound to greet it, because they have a share of the glory in that victory of liberty."

The military review was successfully carried out. All the organizations presented a fine appearance and marched well. The route was about four miles over broad fields. One hour and twenty minutes were consumed in passing a given point. When the procession reached the grand stand General Hancock and staff rode at the head, but then fell out of line, and, with President Arthur, his cabinet, foreign guests, and other dignitaries, reviewed the troops from the stand. General Hancock stated to the President that there were 9,500 men in line. The President was quite enthusiastic over the magnificence of the display. The only colored troops in line were two companies from Richmond, composing part of the First Virginia Regiment. They were loudly cheered by the spectators from the North.

In the afternoon General Hancock gave a reception on board the steamer St. John. Among the guests were President Arthur, David Davis, President pro tem. of the Senate, the French and German visitors, officers of the army and navy, congressional commission, governors, and other officers of States.

The weather being so charming, contributed to the brilliancy and success of the review, the sun sparkling the waves, the ground puffed the dust from being suffocating and blinding as on previous days. An immense crowd lined the ground over which troops passed, but the sentinels along the line of march kept them back, and perfect order was maintained.

On the grand stand, to which admission was obtained only by ticket from General Hancock's quarters, besides the President of the United States and members of the Cabinet, Senators, Representatives, Governors of States, General Sherman and staff, the French and German delegations were a large number of other distinguished men as well as many ladies. Promptly at 10 o'clock the review began. The marching of the troops generally was very fine, and excited great interest among military men, and elicited loud cheers from the multitude. General Hancock and General Fitzhugh Lee were both loudly cheered wherever they appeared, as a tribute to "the Blue and the Gray," and recognition of the fact that both were now marching under the common flag of a common country. The men of Kentucky and Michigan were loudly cheered, as were also the First Connecticut (thought to have gone down with their ship, and arrived just in time to take their position in the line), the Georgia Battalion, which has with them the guns captured from the British at Yorktown one hundred years ago; and the regulars that marched from their several stations North to Yorktown.

The State troops vied with each other in drill and discipline, and the friends of each held the palm.

The regulars excited general admiration. The camps present a very animated appearance, and the frequent guard-mountings, drills, dress parades, salutes, calls, courtesies between the different commands, serenades, speeches, social visits, etc., occupy a great deal of time and excite great interest. The raw recruits are losing their first taste of soldier life, and the veterans are amusing themselves at their expense in ways which would only occur to old soldiers. The two pieces of artillery captured at Yorktown and presented by Washington to the Chatham Artillery, Savannah, are here in the battery of that old organization, and excite the greatest possible interest.

As an illustration of the discipline of some of the volunteers, it may be mentioned one of their sentinels refused to let Secretaries Lincoln and Hunt and Postmaster General James enter the grand stand without the usual pass required of every comer. The commander of sentry boat of the navy, and also director of mails of the nation had to be subject to the orders of "the officers of the day."

Fully ten thousand troops were present during these exercises. The commission out off to-morrow from the programme, and the much looked for naval engagement took place this afternoon, witnessed by the immense crowds from the bluffs. The large barges and steamboats crowded with people, the naval vessels covered with bunting, the yachts, tug, sail and row boats with streamers, the music from the bands, and the firing of the salutes combined to make the scene long to be remembered.

The President's party, Congressional commission, and indeed all the distinguished visitors left this evening, and only the army and navy remain. Some State troops took their departure to-night and the remainder leave to-morrow, and the Yorktown Centennial celebration closes.

THE BRITISH PRESS.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The Times says of the Yorktown celebration: "Englishmen were unprepared to find an occasion upon which a British disaster was nominally celebrated serving to knit the bonds of union between two countries. President Arthur's graceful words and grateful regard wherewith he spoke of the Queen will make a deep impression in the hearts of the Englishmen."

The Standard referring to the compliment paid the British flag at Yorktown, says: "Though not a testimony of good will, it has the requisite of the President Arthur on assuming office, yet it will not be less appreciated. It is enhanced by the graceful terms in which the order decreeing the compliment is worded."

PARIS, Oct. 20.—The Franco-American Club celebrated the Yorktown centenary by a dinner. The table was elaborately decorated in several quarters of the city. The tri-color and the stars and stripes floated from many buildings. The French press is enthusiastic over the event.

NEW FURNITURE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Everyone who has visited the White House since it was refurbished in 1873 will be glad to know that the steambath style of furniture in the East Room, which even when new was never suitable for so elegant a drawing-room, is to be replaced by a new set showing handsomely-carved wood work. That which has been there eight years, it will be remembered, showed no wood at all. The room in which Mrs. Garfield, and afterward the President, was so long ill is not to be refurbished, as the furniture, which is very handsome, is in good repair. The furniture is maple and ash combined.

The walls have, however, recently been caulked, over the tinted paper, which has been on them so long, and which now look very fresh, indeed. The colors are pale blue, paneled with pale pink, divided by gilt moldings. Where the table stood on which the physicians and nurses measured out medicines and other fluids used in the sick room, the wall had been splashed, and was much discolored. These spots are now entirely obliterated.

ANOTHER VICTORY.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—At the Sandown Park Club autumn meeting, the race for the Cambridgehire trial plate was won by Lordillard's Passaic; Kate Reilly second, Mar third. Six ran.

Conservative member of Parliament for Oxford University, writes to the Times, confirming Professor Goldwin's opinion concerning the kindly feelings of Americans for England. "He says that during an extended tour of the Union he heard the most affectionate expressions toward England from all classes, and he believes the unreasonableness of the Irish agitation and the character of its leaders are as thoroughly appreciated in America as in England."

The original sum of £500,000 given by the late George Peabody in 1862 as a fund for building lodging-houses for the poor in London now amounts to £720,000.

OUTLAWED.

The British Government Declares the Land League Treasonable.

DUBLIN, October 20.—"The government is ferocious," said a well-known public man to-day. "It will stop at nothing now. Nothing will be omitted which can assist in obliterating the league and humiliating its leaders." After the "No-Rent" manifesto it was hardly possible that the government could help declaring the organization illegal, but when it did not do so at once it was thought that the government had done all it intended to do. But its present action to-day, with Archbishop Crooke's declaration, destroys every hope that buoyed up the friends of the movement to this moment. The best informed people believe, however, that the ferocity of Mr. Forster is instigated by some information which is now kept secret in Dublin Castle. The intimation in Saturday's dispatch is now confirmed. The Government have had spies in the league, and have known every turn of the movement. It is an information thus divulged that the league were arrested for treasonable practices. It seems hardly possible that the striking of Mr. Parnell from the list of Justices of the Peace of Wicklow could have been made so late. A much stronger reason supplied is that the Government possess knowledge on which they are now preparing Mr. Parnell's indictment for treason. Earl Cowper, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, has in a special proclamation to be issued to-night declared the Land League to be an illegal organization, and warned the Irish people that its meetings of all kinds or in any place will be dispersed by force. The following is the proclamation:

By the Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland.—A Proclamation: WHEREAS, An association styling itself the Irish National Land League has been formed for some time past, assuming to interfere with the Queen's subjects in the free exercise of their lawful rights, and especially to control the relations between landlords and tenants in Ireland;

WHEREAS, The designs of the association are being sought to be affected by an organized system of intimidation, by attempting to obstruct the service of the processes, the execution of the Queen's writs, and by seeking to deter the Queen's subjects from fulfilling their contracts, and following their lawful callings and occupations;

WHEREAS, The said association has now avowed its purpose to be to prevent the paying of all rent, and to effect the subversion of law as administered in the Queen's name in Ireland;

Now We Herely Warn All Persons, That the said association, styling itself the Irish National Land League, or by whatsoever other name it may be called or known, is an unlawful and criminal association, and that all meetings, assemblies to carry out or promote its designs or purposes are alike unlawful and criminal, and will be prevented, and, if necessary, dispersed by force.

We Herely Warn All subjects of her Majesty the Queen, who may have become connected with the said association, to discontinue themselves therefrom, and to abstain from giving further countenance thereto.

And We Do Herely Make Known, That all powers and resources at our command will be employed to protect the Queen's subjects in Ireland in the free exercise of their lawful rights, and in the peaceful pursuit of their lawful callings and occupations, to enforce the fulfillment of all lawful obligations, and to save the processes of the law and the execution of the Queen's writs from hindrances or obstruction; and we do hereby call on all loyal and well-affected subjects of the Crown to aid us in upholding and maintaining the authority of the law and the supremacy of the Queen in this her realm of Ireland.

Dated at Dublin Castle this 20th day of October, 1881, by his Excellency's commands. W. E. FORSTER.

BARON VON STEUBEN.

Reply to the President's Address.

YORKTOWN, Va., Oct. 20.—Baron Von Steuben spoke in German as follows yesterday, in response to President Arthur's address:

Mr. President, in the words of welcome to your foreign guests which you have just uttered, you remembered and mentioned in kind terms the family of Von Steuben. I assure you that as soon as the tidings of our hearty, enthusiastic reception in this country, following the friendly invitation to us by the President of the United States, were received in old fatherland, there was heart-felt rejoicing among all classes in every part of our country. It was a new and striking evidence of the common sympathy that existed between the American and German people. It proves, too, that the American people, which thus appreciates and honors the great deed, stands at the height of civilization and culture. Only this morning I received a cablegram from my country with hearty congratulations upon this happy commemoration day so important in the history of the United States. And I believe, Mr. President, I may express to you the sincere congratulations of the whole German people and of the German Government upon this auspicious day. Permit me also, Mr. President, to return to you, for all our Von Steuben family, the warmest thanks of our full hearts, thanks which I cannot adequately express for the boundless hospitality and for the cordial greetings which we have met on every hand, at every step, from the hour of our landing until you crowned the whole with your welcome to us as representatives of our great kinsman. I can only say to you, again and again, we thank you.
